THE LONDON FIVE.

CHARLEY POWER, Banjoist.

Late banjoist of CALIFORNIANS INTERNATIONAL DANCE BAND, Winners of 1st Prize, "MELODY MAKER" Dance Band Contest at Chelsea Town Hall, 17th Sept., 1926.

Mr. Power expresses his delight in his "MONARCH" Banjo and writes:—"For tone and quality it is wonderful, and I have yet to come across another 'jo that is anyway near the same class. My pupils and all the 'Boys' think it's great, and I readily endorse their opinions."

STAN. W. WINGROVE.

Mr. Wingrove has used "ABBOTT" Banjos at all his engagements during the past two seasons and assures us that they have given every satisfaction.

J. G. ABBOTT & COMPANY have great pleasure in presenting the 4th Edition of their Catalogue of Stringed Instruments and Accessories.

During past years great progress has been made by ABBOTTS. They have produced the finest instruments in the world. They have been entrusted to make instruments for the world's finest banjoists. Players who must have the best.

Included in this List are instruments suitable for the professional player and the amateur. ABBOTT Instruments are not made on mass production lines. Each instrument is an individual product. Through each process it passes it is subjected to critical examinations by expert players. The result is, no matter what price is asked for the instrument, it is perfect. All instruments are finally tested by Mr. J. G. ABBOTT and are despatched with a guarantee and test certificate attached. See page 39.

All ABBOTT instruments are beautifully designed and finished and are unequalled for tone and power.

If you anticipate purchasing an instrument of the kind in which we specialise, then, in your own interest, test our claims. This opportunity can be arranged, without cost or obligation on your part, on application.

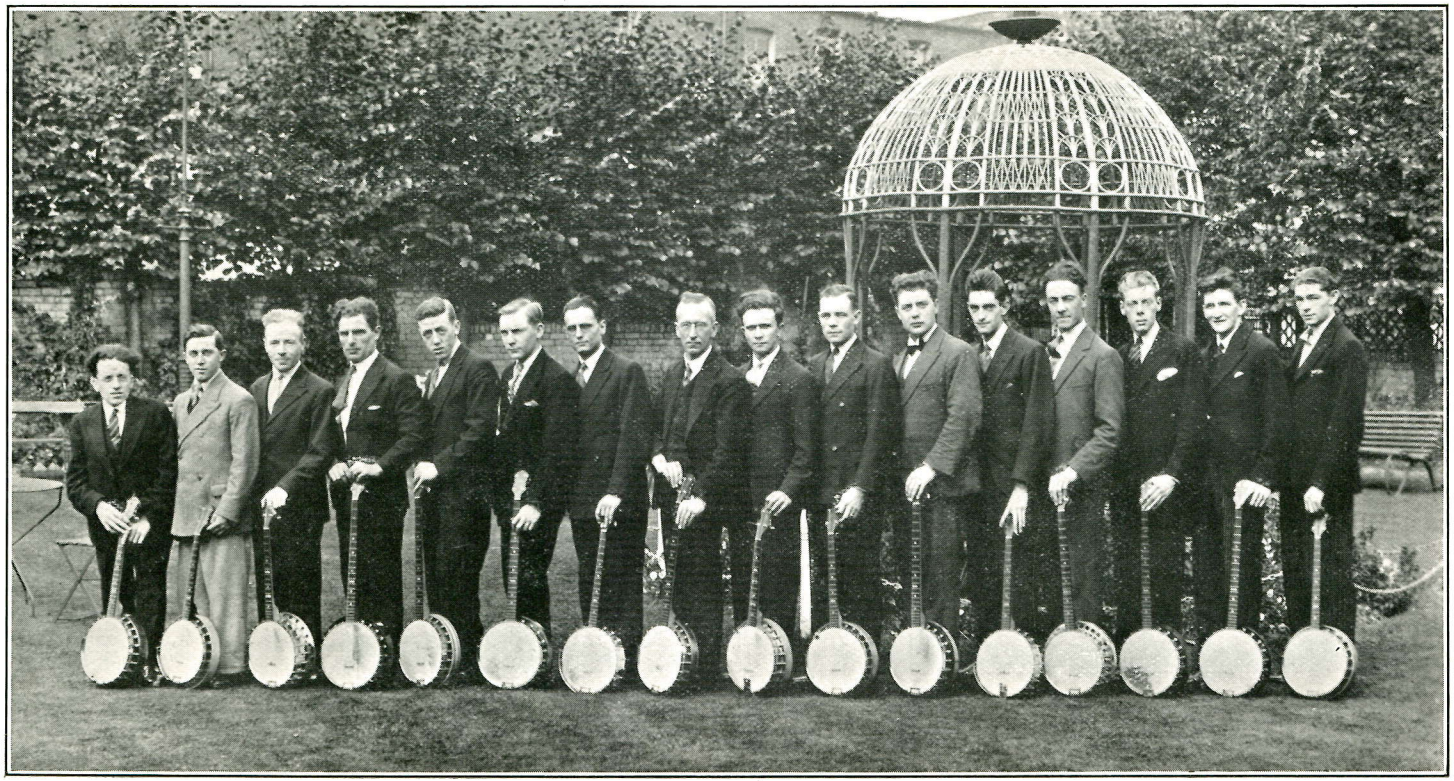
ALL "ABBOTT" BANJOS!



A West London Banjo Band.

Printed by J. W. Vernon & Co., Ltd. St. Albans & London

SUPER The "MONARCH" BANJOS

DENNIS POWELL, the brilliant banjoist of The METRONOMES BAND, winner of the CLIFFORD ESSEX Gold Medal for best banjoist competing in "ERA" dance band contest at Astoria Dance Salon, Charing Cross Road, London, 8th April, 1927. Competition won by The METRONOMES BAND (then Drayson Marsh's 2nd London Band).

Mr. Powell writes :—"The gold plated 'MONARCH' is superb in tone, appearance and snappiness and cannot possibly be excelled. The perfect banjo is here, and 'ABBOTT'S' make it!"

SUPER The "MONARCH" BANJOS

EDDIE HAYES, who had the honour of being engaged to play for the PRINCE OF WALES on his trip to Canada, and was also selected to attend at the Governor's reception of the Royal party in Quebec.

Mr. Hayes writes :—" On every occasion my ' ABBOTT ' banjos gave me 100 per cent. satisfaction, and attracted most favourable comment for their superb tone and appearance. I am proud to possess such fine instruments."

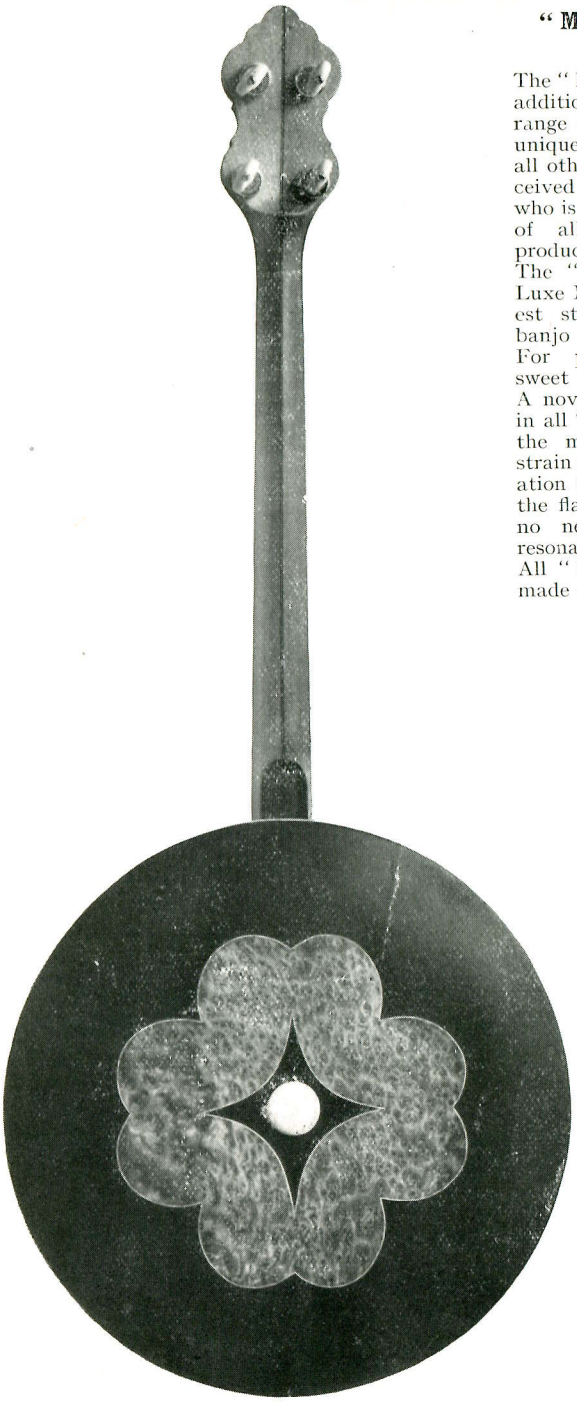
"MONARCH" SUPER BANJOS.

The "MONARCH" is the latest addition to the "ABBOTT" range of instruments. It is of unique design. Different from all others. The design was conceived by Mr. J. G. ABBOTT, who is responsible for the design of all "ABBOTT" quality products.

The "MONARCH" Model de Luxe No. 1 represents the highest standard yet attained in banjo construction and finish. For production of powerful sweet tone, it is unsurpassed. A novel feature is incorporated in all "MONARCH" models in the method of adjusting the strain on the vellum. This operation is carried out in front of the flange. There is, therefore, no necessity to remove the resonator.

All "MONARCH" models are made on the same principle.



Back view of "MONARCH" Tenor Banjo, Model No. 1.

The photographs on the preceding pages convey a good impression of the general appearance of "MONARCH" Model No. 1 Tenor Banjo.

THE INCOMPARABLE "ABBOTT."

ARTHUR A. KENNEDY is the well-known Oxford teacher of most fretted instruments. Talented and versatile, he is tremendously popular with the 'Varsity; Students of all nations have received instruction at his hands on the Banjo, Guitar, etc.

In France, Belgium and Italy, with the 4th O.B.L.I. during the Great War, he entertained his comrades with funny songs, etc. The Colonel of the battalion presented a madolin, banjo and guitar to him, and many a jolly sing-song they accompanied. They are now on the retired list. He only performs on "ABBOTT" instruments now, as he says he meant to have the BEST AND BRITISH. He is satisfied. Why not you?

Mr. Kennedy writes :—

"DEAR MR. ABBOTT,—I've lost count of the various fretted musical instruments you have made for me. They have included Banjos, Tenor Banjos, Banjolins, Banjo Mandolins, Ukulele Banjos, Guitars (Spanish and Tenor styles) and beautiful Ukuleles, real specimens of craft and art. The tone and Workmanship is wonderful, and I advise all my pupils who arrive with 'DUD' JERRY TACKLE to buy BRITISH BANJOS, etc., and let it be an 'ABBOTT.'

(Signed) ARTHUR A. KENNEDY."

Elm House,
Hills Road,
Cambridge.
8/7/27.

"DEAR SIRS,

"I should like to express my appreciation of the Tenor banjo I obtained from you. It is a splendid instrument, the tone is crisp, clear and penetrating, making it a delightful instrument to play. The workmanship and finish are excellent, and I am more than pleased with it. I shall be very glad to recommend your product to anyone who wants a banjo of undoubted superiority, made by men with a proper understanding of the instrument.

"Yours sincerely,
"MONARCH." "(Signed) G. W. JOHNSON."

" 7, Raymond Rd.,
Beckenham,
Kent.

" Mr. Abbott has been known to me for a number of years and, speaking from experience, I can thoroughly recommend him as a first class manufacturer of Banjos and kindred instruments in which the qualities of Workmanship, Tone and Durability are combined features. Dealers and banjoists should make a note of this.

" A. J. Brereton."

" Gentlemen,—Will you please make for me a banjo, same as you did last year. It has given every satisfaction under all sorts of conditions. It was a big test when I played in a big London park before a huge crowd. It rang out like a bell and everyone could hear it well. Quite a number commented on the quality and power of the banjo.

" I am very proud of my ' Joe ' because I get such good reports from everywhere I go."

" Dear Mr. Abbott,—On 26th August last the band of which I am banjoist won 1st prize in the Greater London Dance Band Contest held at the Putney Hippodrome during the week beginning 22nd August.

" I wish to express my appreciation of my ' ABBOTT ' banjos which I used on the above occasion. For workmanship, finish and tone they are unsurpassed. Many of the finest American banjos were represented in the other competing bands, but I am sure my instruments were far superior to any there.

" Yours sincerely,
(Of Stamford Dance Band.)

You must own an instrument of which you can honestly think the same as the writers of the foregoing letters.

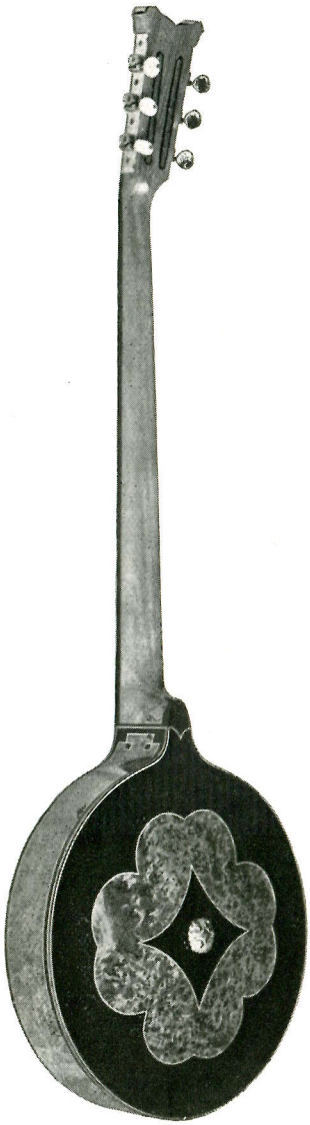
THE " AMBOYNA " ZITHER BANJO.

MR. JAN WIEN.
The World's Greatest Zither Banjoist.

Mr. Jan Wien plays his " AMBOYNA " at his numerous engagements and recitals, which include broadcast solos from most B.B.C. stations, concerts at Wigmore Hall, London, recitals at Engineers' Hall, Glasgow, etc., etc.

THE "AMBOYNA."
Back View.



"After a thorough test the 'AMBOYNA' proves to be an instrument of the highest standard.

"For pure tone I have never heard its equal, almost voice quality, perfect to the last fret, in fact, nearer a Harp than a Banjo.

"Strings close to fingerboard, facilitating easy fingering, without the slightest loss of tone.

"A wonderful clearing distance between the fifth and third strings, to allow of a powerful stroke on the bass string without causing one to hit the fifth string in error.

"Perfect workmanship, beautifully finished to the last detail.

"I can thoroughly recommend these banjos to amateur and professional alike. "JAN C. WIEN."

THE "AMBOYNA" ZITHER BANJO.

The Zither Banjo de luxe.

The "AMBOYNA" Zither Banjo was designed by Mr. J. G. ABBOTT more than twenty years ago. To-day it stands supreme in the zither banjo world. It is the finest banjo obtainable.

Most zither banjoists of repute play "AMBOYNAS."

Read the striking testimony of men who know.

Mr. ALFRED E. LUDLOW, Teacher of the Banjo, of 131, Kirkham Street, Plumstead, S.E.

"I am pleased to inform you that I have thoroughly tested the splendidly built 'AMBOYNA' Banjo you have made for one of my pupils, and am positive the high praise that has been expressed by the numerous experts in regard to this beautiful instrument has not in any way whatever been exaggerated.

"(Signed) A. E. LUDLOW."

Mr. J. G. HARRIS, England's Premier Tremolo Zither Banjoist, of 45, Cranbrook Road, Thornton Heath, Surrey.

"I have played on your 'AMBOYNA' Zither Banjo at my London and Provincial engagements. For carrying power, easy manipulation and expressive tone production I consider it stands alone."

Mr. E. A. BRAITHWAITE, of 208, Queen's Road, Peckham, S.E.

"It affords me great pleasure in recommending the 'AMBOYNA' Zither Banjo. I, having played for thirty-one years and having had several makes, find nothing compared with the 'AMBOYNA' for tone, reliability, workmanship and durability. I have also strongly recommended same to pupils I teach."

We have received many more letters of appreciation, which may be seen on application.

THE "ABBOTT" PATENT BANJO MANDOLIN.

Patent No. 228710. Back View. Reg. Design No. 703581.

"I am very pleased indeed with your latest model of the Banjo Mandolin. Both for purity of tone and volume it leaves nothing to be desired. I have used it in large and small dance orchestras, and I can assure you that it can be heard above the drums, etc. For concert work they are 'it,' their perfect fretting making it possible to play correctly in the highest positions. I shall always have very much pleasure in recommending them to all desiring a really good and correct instrument.

The late Mr. PLUMBRIDGE wrote :—

"In my opinion, your patent Banjo Mandolin that you have been making for me is the finest instrument on the market for tone, durability, finish and workmanship. I am quite sure you will have an enormous sale for them."

Mr. Plumbridge was right. We have had an enormous sale for them, and are still making them in large numbers.

THE "ABBOTT" PATENT BANJO MANDOLIN.

Patent No. 228710. Reg. design No. 703581.

The ABBOTT patent banjo mandolin is the result of many years of study in this class of instrument. A glance at the illustrations will convince you that the design, construction and finish are really high-class.

Easy to play in any position on the fingerboard, producing a tone, clear and true, of great carrying power.

It will remain in tune, due to our method of building, the instrument being perfectly rigid.

The only make of zither banjo mandolin that will stand the mandolin tuning successfully.

Stretching, any size, ready on flesh hoop	7	6
Fitting new vellum on banjo. Price above cost of vellum	10	0

When ordering unstretched vellums please note you require a vellum 3 ins. larger in diameter than the hoop it is to fit. When ordering ready stretched vellums, send old wire if possible; if not, send exact diameter of hoop.

Instructions for Removing Burst Vellum and Fitting new ready stretched Vellum.

Remove strings. Remove hexagon bolts or, in the case of an ordinary banjo, wires. Remove bezel (straining hoop). Remove old vellum (the wire of which should be sent when ordering stretched vellum). Place new vellum (ready stretched) in position. Replace bezel. Put 4 hexagon bolts (or wires) in at equal intervals round the bezel. First, tighten these four down a little—this will enable you to replace the remaining bolts (or wires). Tighten down evenly all round to set the head comfortably. A little judgment is required at this stage. Should the vellum be hard, slightly damp it from the centre to within ½ in. of the edge. This will ease matters greatly, and is not risky if done carefully and the head is allowed to settle down. Usually no damping is required.

Four extra long wires and nuts will be found very useful when replacing a vellum, and can be supplied (plated) price 1/6 each.

An interesting booklet on Vellums, by Messrs. Jos. Rogers, Jnr., and Son, may be had on application, free of charge.
